LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDERS, Will destroy Garden Insects, Cockroaches, Bed-Bugs, Fleas,

Ants, Moths, and all pests of the vermin kind. The importance of a reliable article of this kind is inestimable. In warm weather all nature teems with these annoying foes. This powder is the only article ever discovered which will exterminate them. A company of botanists, from the Horticultural Society of Paris, while amidst the ferns of Asia, observed that all insects lighting upon a certain kind of plant very soon dropped dead. This fact was made use of to guard their night camps from the intruders. Quantities of the plant was brought home by Mr. E. Lyon, and found a positive insect destroyer in every experiment. It is simply a powdered leaf, chemically prepared to resist | miles above Wilmington. The tract of land contains SIX have been obtained! from the governments of England. France, Germany and Russia, from the World's Fair, and numerous medical and horticultural colleges and societies. Letter from the President of the United States.

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, 31st Jan. 1854. "MR. EMANUEL LYON .- Dear Sir : I have the pleasure to inform you that the Commission, of the World's Fair, at London, have awarded you a Medal and Certificate for the great value of your Magnetic Powders, &c. "MILLARD FILLMORE, Chairman."

The above was accompanied by a certificate of Prince IT IS FREE FROM POISON.

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1858. Mr. E. Lyon .- Dear Sir: We have analysed and tested your Magnetic Powders and find them perfectly harmless to mankind and domestic animals, but certain death when in-

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist. LAURANCE REID, Prof. Chemistry, N. Y. Hospital. Mr. John J., Rome, Superintendant of the New York Hospital, says, "he has expelled all the bugs, ants, roaches, moths, &c., with Lyon's Magnetic Powder, and finds it of Every gardner and housekeeper must have a direct interest in an article of this kind. Reference can be made to the Astor, St. Nicholas, and Metropolitan Hotels; to Judge Meigs, President of the American Institute; James Gordon Bennett, Gen. Winfield Scott, Cyrus W. Field, L. M. Pease, of the Five Points Mission, &c., &c. Judge Meigs says, This discovery of Prof. Lyon is of national importance. The Farmers' Club have tested it thoroughly. It will destroy locusts, grasshoppers, ants, moths, bugs, and all vermin. Garden plants can be preserved, and houses made pure." Arrangements are now made through Messrs. BARNES & PARK, of New York, to have it sold throughout the world. Many worthless imitations are advertised. Be cautious! "NEW YORK, Nov. 8th, 1858.

" In retiring from business, I have sold all my Insect Powders and Pills, Letters Paptent, and the secrets pertaining thereto, to Messrs. Barnes & Park. The Powder is a discovery made by myself, and brought from the interior of Asia, and is unknown to any other persons. The genuine and effective article is put up in tin canisters, and will continue to bear my name. Rats and mice cannot be reached by a powder, and are killed by a Magnetic Pill. Order them through any merchant.

But Lyon's Pills are mixed for rats and mice. Sample flasks, 25 cents; regular sizes, 50 cents and $1 00. Follow directions. Use freely and thoroughly.

You must first know that though " out of the world," while cruising along these unknown shoals, we have still an occasional European mail, by some wandering ship, and (while anchored here) a semi-weekly mail from Yeddo. The Great Ruler, therefore, stabbed himself in the bowels, receiving at the same moment a severe blow on the back of his neck, from a friend and relative, which, dislocating the vertebru, produced instant death. This bold stand upon the part of their Mikado, who has been treated by the late Tai-Koons more as a puppet than a master, has startled the Japanese, and caused them to expect some great chan-

however, equally certain, that it has not resulted from natural causes, and our Dutch friends say that Harikari is most probable. On the 24th inst., the Flag Officer was officially notified of the death of the Emperor by the Governor of Nagasaki. We were informed with all the gravity in the world, that he had been sick for six weeks with pleurisy, and that he had finally succumbed on the 4th of September. I subsequently said to the interpreter: "you once Thus I place the assertion of the Interpreter against the belief of the Dutch-myself inclining toward the latter. The interpreter, however, was "Yash-

The day after being officially informed of the Imperial death, the Flag officer sent his Flag Lieutenant to the Governor, to say to him that he wished to honor his master's memory, by firing 21 minute guns, just as we should for our President, or for the head of a European power, were we anckored in one of their ports. The same correspondent says that upon the appearance of cholera in Japan, the belief prevailed that the English had poisoned the springs, and adds:

This disease had, it seems, broken out with great violence shortly after our departure, a month previous, carginating a feeling of wide spread alarm throughout the whole southern part of the Island of Kin-sin. It was not attributed to natural causes by the lower classes, but to the working of a devil who it was asserted had been thrown overboard from one of the English ships lately visiting the port, and who had then swam on shore to destroy the people as a punishment for the spirit of "free intercourse with foreigners," which Japan had manifesexistence of such a conviction among the lower orders is scarcely to be wondered at, when one reflects upon the superstituous nature of their religion (?) and upon the acts of some English sailors, which evidently gave rise to the belief. It seems that one of the English vessels buckets to others. Thus was originated the idea of the

From the Detroit Free Press, Jan. 4. Elopement of a Rich Helress with a Negro. Practical fruits of Abolitionism—The hapy pair Married in Canada—The Girl contented with her African

An elopement and marriage took place on Saturday

which was out of the the usual line, sufficiently so, we imagine, to satisfy the most craving appetite for the novel and disgusting, both of which we have—the latter in sufficient quantity to turn any white stomach in existence. A young girl named Sarah Judson, whose father lives on a fine property a mile or two from Pontiac, eloped on Saturday and came to Detroit. The partner of her flight was a black man, who has been in the emtimes walks, and again proceeds by water. A few days ployment of her father for sometime in the capacity of after our arrival, one of these " Post " came in, and the farm hand. The first intimation that the father had of the intention of the parties, was conveyed by the fact of sima the Yeddo news; they, in turn, passed it over to us. It was said that, after the signing of our last treaty (29th of July 19th) if the parties, was conveyed by the fact of the parties of th Imperial Emperor at Yeddo, to the Mikado or Spiritual no official or clergyman could have been found who Humphrey, David J. Humphrey, Sarah A. Humphrey, Barah A. Humphrey and Elizabeth J. Humphrey, Contested Will. Emperor at Miaco for his approval. The latter, however, would nave so far transgressed the bounds of decency as to unite the couple, the appearance of the girl being such as would forbid the union in the mind of any senwould have so far transgressed the bounds of decency as sible man, to say nothing of the law in the case. Some individual was found in Canada who performed the ceremony, however, and the two were made one. They are now in Windsor, enjoying the sweets of the honeymoon. The farther of the girl is a red-hot abolitionist, of the whole hog or nothing, nigger as good as anybody style. For a long series of years he has disgusted his neighbors with his ranting on abolition and amalgamation, of which he was disposed to abate not a jot or tittle from its utmost limit. In order that he might not be said to preach what he did not practice, he made it a point to treat the numerous colored individuals whom he from time to time employed, as on a par with his own family. These doctrines he inculca-ted upon the understandings of his children, and he has the supreme satisfaction of witnessing, as the practical result of his teachings, his own daughter clasped in the embrace of a greasy nigger, willing and ready, and even enthusiastically reciprocal, in the sweet game of dalliance with which lovers delight to celebrate their union. The brother of the girl come on the next day, arriving here on Sunday, and ascertaining their whereabouts, went to her and implored her to return. She was contented, however, loved her ebony half, was happy in his arms, and couldn't think of going back. The emotions of a brother at such a sight can better be imagined than described. Some men would have blotted out their discepted by us as the most natural, and consequently more grace with a single blow, but he had been taught that it cepted by us as the most natural, and consequently more likely to be true, than any other; but yesterday all doubt was removed by the publication of the following government order:

was no sin against God or man that his young sister should repose in the embrace of a negro, and at the same time calmly look him in the face and say that she was contented. He went home as he had come, alone. The girl is about eighteen years old. The family are said to have occupied a position in society which was first class, and the blow is consequently a terrible one. The father is rich, and the girl an heiress, which makes it very nice for the African of her choice. The matter has caused an intense excitement in the neighborhood where the parties are well known, the girl having been born and brough up where her parents reside. It is difficult to imagine any train of circumstances by which a young and intelligent girl could be brought to form a connection so repugnant to all the senses; yet the fact exists. A more complete retribution for the crime of fanaticism we never heard of. The least we can wish is that the father, undoubtedly well cured of his beliefs by this time, may be able to save his young daughter from the terrible future which now opens to her.

St. Chrysostom.—John of Antioch, called from his eloquence the golden-mouthed, was born in 355, a little later than the founding of Constantinople. His father died while he was young; his mother remained a widow "Well, now, I want to know how he died!" I said for the sake of his education and in her was illustrated the remark of Sir James Mackintosh, "that all great men have had able mothers." At the age of twenty, Chrysostom was renowned as a pleader at the bar. At twenty-six, he turned religious hermit and spent eight years in study of the Scriptures, in penance and prayer. He was then ordained priest at Antioch, and tradition adds that at his consecration a white dove, the sign of immediate inspiration, descended on his head. He was thought the greatest Christian orator next to Paul, and once when the Emperor, offended at the people of Antioch, was about to lay waste the city, his eloquence saved them. He was made patriarch of Constantinople, but so much was he adored by his countrymen that it was necessary to kidnap him and carry him away by a force of soldiers, before the citizens had time to interfere. He was as good as he was great, fearless of anything but God, and in his new position he thundered against the vices of the Greeks and the Imperial House so effectualy that he was rewarded with exile and persecution. He was full of oratorical fire, sweet in tenderness and pathos, at home in all learning, noble in form and action, his imagery rich and inexhaustible, his voice clear, flexible and spirit-stirring. In his troubles he greatly strengthened himself by the scriptural examples and teachings. At length, worried out by persecutions, he died at an obscure village on the borders of Syria. More than 1400 years afterwards, Henry Martyn, under circumstances strikingly similar, only that he was a missionary, not a martyr, died at the same village. And the friend of modern missions loves to think while bending over the lowly headstone at Tocat, that the remains of the young, the good and the gifted Camrying off as many as fifty of the Japanese, daily, and ori- bridge graduate, repose on the spot from which the soul

We deny that the Pacific Railroad and Pension bill would be politic measures under any circumstances .-When they are suggested as an original and incalculable demand on an empty exchequer, they have no claim to the support even of those who maintain their abstract expediency. The advocates of a protective tariff may urge them with the sinister view of necessitating an increase of the public burdens; but Democrats, professing a regard for the principles of free trade and the popular interests, will be all the more averse to a policy which gave liberty to a number of her crew; that two of these is pregnant with such mischievous consequences. Will not the champions of reduced duties be admonished by the declaration? An economical administration commends itself, again to that class of statesmen who would restrict the power of the Federal Government within the limits of its constitutional charter. Every dollar added to its expenditure involves a proportionate increase of its patronage, and, by consequence, of its authority. When the disbursements from the National Treasury were only as many millions as might be told on one's fingers, the centhe annual outlay for the support of the federal system is hard upon a hundred millions; and what is the re-A Model Lover.—The Detroit Free Press gives the sult?
